Rumor, Reputation and Legend System

Version 0.1

1. DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

The player does not control their reputation.

The world creates its own version of the player's story.

Truth and rumors are different things.

Every action creates:

- witnesses;
 - stories;
 - rumors;
 - legends;
 - myths.

2. INFORMATION PROPAGATION

Information spreads through:

- travelers;
- merchants;
- soldiers;
- bards;
- criminals;
- priests;
- letters;
- rumors.

The speed of information depends on:

- distance;
- importance;

- witnesses;
 - political interest.

3. INFORMATION ACCURACY

Every story has an accuracy level.

Examples:

100%

- exact truth.

75%

- mostly true.

50%

- heavily distorted.

25%

- mostly false.

0%

- complete fabrication.

4. RUMOR CREATION

Example:

Real event:

The player defeats three bandits.

Possible rumors:

Version 1: "He defeated five bandits."

Version 2: "He slaughtered twenty men."

Version 3: "He cheated using magic."

Version 4: "He barely survived."

Version 5: "It never happened."

5. WITNESSES

Witnesses determine rumors.

Witness types:

- honest;
- fearful;
- drunk;
- fanatical;
- hostile;
- friendly.

The same event produces different stories.

6. BARDS

Bards amplify stories.

Example:

Reality:

Player killed a wolf.

Ballad:

"The fearless warrior fought the beast for hours."

7. CRIMINAL RUMORS

Criminals spread:

- crimes;

- betrayals;
- robberies;
- murders.

Effects:

- bounty;
 - fear;
 - respect.

8. RELIGIOUS RUMORS

Priests spread:

- miracles;
 - heresy;
 - curses;
 - prophecies.

9. POLITICAL RUMORS

Nobles spread:

- propaganda;
 - lies;
 - secrets;
 - accusations.

10. PERSONAL REPUTATION

Every NPC has:

Opinion: -100 to +100

Examples:

100: Hero.

50: Friend.

0: Neutral.

-50: Enemy.

-100: Mortal enemy.

11. LOCAL REPUTATION

Settlements remember actions.

Examples:

Save village:

- reputation.

Steal:

- reputation.

Kill citizen: major consequences.

12. FACTION REPUTATION

Examples:

Iron Legion: +40

Cult: -60

Free Clans: +20

Different factions interpret actions differently.

13. FEAR REPUTATION

Examples:

Player:

- executed criminals;
- killed monsters;
- tortured enemies.

Effects:

- intimidation bonus;
 - fear reactions;
 - hostility.

14. HEROIC REPUTATION

Examples:

Player:

- saved villages;
- defeated monsters;
- protected caravans.

Effects:

- discounts;
 - hospitality;
 - trust.

15. CRIMINAL REPUTATION

Examples:

Player:

- theft;
- murder;
- smuggling;
- prison escape.

Effects:

- bounty hunters;
- fear;

- criminal respect.

16. TITLES

The world creates titles.

Examples:

"The Wolf Killer"

"The One-Eyed Warrior"

"The Butcher of Ashford"

"The Dragon Slayer"

"The Mad Mage"

The player cannot choose titles.

17. LEGENDS

Major actions become legends.

Examples:

Reality:

Player survived dragon attack.

Legend:

"The dragon feared him."

18. FALSE LEGENDS

The player may become famous for things never done.

Example:

Rumor:

"The player murdered the king."

Reality:

False.

Consequences:

The world reacts anyway.

19. HIDDEN REPUTATION

The player never sees numbers.

Instead, reactions change.

Examples:

NPC:

- smiles;
 - fears;
 - insults;
 - avoids;
 - respects.

20. VISUAL REACTIONS

Examples:

Children: follow player.

Guards: watch player.

Bandits: avoid player.

Merchants: offer discounts.

21. NPC MEMORY

NPCs remember:

- conversations;
- promises;
- crimes;
- heroism;
- humiliation.

Memory duration:

days, months, years.

22. FAMILY MEMORY

Families remember.

Example:

Player kills father.

Children remember.

Grandchildren may remember.

23. HISTORICAL MEMORY

Major events enter history.

Examples:

Wars. Massacres. Heroes. Disasters.

Books may mention them.

24. PLAYER LEGEND

Possible stages:

Nobody ↓ Traveler ↓ Adventurer ↓ Hero ↓ Champion ↓ Legend ↓ Myth

The player never sees progression bars.

25. AI NPC USAGE

NPCs use:

- rumors;
- memories;
- legends;
- personal opinions.

Example:

Guard:

"I heard you defeated the beast."

Merchant:

"I heard you cheated."

Priest:

"I heard you are cursed."

All may refer to the same event.

26. CORE RULE

The player does not create their own legend.

The world creates the player's legend.

And the world may be wrong.
