User Interface and User Experience System

Version 0.1

1. DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

The interface must disappear.

The player should feel:

"I am inside the world."

Not:

"I am using software."

2. VISUAL STYLE

Primary inspirations:

- Gothic 1
- Morrowind
- Darkest Dungeon
- Medieval manuscripts

Style:

- dark fantasy;
 - old parchment;
 - worn wood;
 - iron;
 - candle light.

3. CORE PRINCIPLES

The interface must be:

- immersive;
 - minimal;
 - readable;
 - atmospheric.

4. WHAT WE DO NOT USE

Never use:

- floating damage numbers;
 - quest markers;
 - exclamation marks;
 - minimaps;
 - glowing paths;
 - objective arrows;
 - skill trees UI.

5. MAIN GAME SCREEN

Screen consists of:

- world scene;
 - thought panel;
 - dialogue panel;
 - status panel;
 - quick actions.

6. THOUGHT PANEL

Purpose:

Display character thoughts.

Examples:

- This road seems dangerous.
- I should rest.
- Something is wrong.

Thoughts are not commands.

7. DIALOGUE PANEL

Contains:

- NPC speech;
- player input;
- narration.

Player types freely.

8. PLAYER INPUT

Examples:

"I attack."

"I negotiate."

"I investigate."

No buttons required.

9. SUGGESTION SYSTEM

Suggestions appear as:

character thoughts.

Examples:

- Perhaps negotiation is possible.
 - He seems frightened.

10. COMBAT SCREEN

Perspective:

First-person psychological view.

The player sees:

- enemy;
- environment;
- effects.

The player does not see:

their own body.

11. TARGETING

Initially:

only torso.

Later:

- arms;
- legs;
- head;
- special targets.

Unlocked through training.

12. HEALTH DISPLAY

No health bars.

Instead:

- wounds;
 - blood;
 - pain;
 - thoughts.

13. ENEMY CONDITION

Examples:

- breathing heavily;
 - limping;
 - bleeding;
 - frightened.

14. PLAYER CONDITION

Examples:

- My arm hurts.
 - I feel weak.
 - I am exhausted.

15. DICE DISPLAY

Dice remain visible.

Examples:

D20: 17

Attack: Success.

16. INVENTORY

Visual style:

- backpack;
- pockets;
- equipment layout.

Items appear physical.

17. MAP SCREEN

Visual style:

- old parchment;
 - hand-drawn maps;
 - notes.

18. JOURNAL

Journal stores:

- observations;
- memories;
- rumors.

Not objectives.

19. CHARACTER SCREEN

Displays:

- biography;
 - skills;
 - injuries;
 - fears;
 - reputation.

20. SKILL DISPLAY

Display:

names.

Hide:

internal calculations.

21. MAGIC INTERFACE

Displays:

- knowledge;
- rituals;
- spells.

Not cooldown bars.

22. THOUGHT SETTINGS

Modes:

- Full Thoughts;
 - Intuition Only;
 - Combat Only;
 - Hardcore.

23. DIALOGUE HISTORY

Stores:

- conversations;
 - promises;
 - threats.

24. RUMOR INTERFACE

Rumors appear naturally.

Example:

"I heard something happened."

25. QUEST INTERFACE

Display:

stories.

Do not display:

tasks.

26. WORLD NEWS

Examples:

- wars;
- plagues;
- disasters.

Presented through:

- rumors;
 - newspapers;
 - NPCs.

27. STONE SLEEP SCREEN

When awakening:

show world changes.

Example:

"You slept for 12 days."

28. ACCESSIBILITY

Optional:

- subtitles;
 - text scaling;
 - assistance.

29. IMMERSION RULE

UI elements should appear as objects from the world.

30. CORE RULE

The player should remember the world.

Not the interface.
